

STUDENTS TALK BACK:

A WEEKLY POLITICS AND PUBLIC POLICY FORUM

Affordable Care Act: What Does it Mean for Young People?

Obamacare is Here: What You Need to Know for the California Exchange Opening Week

Wednesday, October 2, 12:00 – 1:00PM

The Forum (RTCC 450)

Located in the Ronald Tutor Campus Center.

FREE FOOD SERVED AT 11:30AM!

Discussion begins at noon.
Food and space are limited. First come, first served.

Featuring:

Dana P. Goldman, Ph.D., USC Norman Topping Chair in Medicine and Public Policy and Director, USC Schaeffer Center for Health Policy and Economics

Tamika Butler, California Director, Young Invincibles

Sarah Axeen, Ph.D. Student, USC School of Policy, Planning, and Development

Julia Wick, Student, Sustainable Planning, USC Price School of Public Policy

Co-moderated by:

Bonnie Reiss, Global Director, USC Schwarzenegger Institute

Annalise Mantz, Editor-in-Chief, USC Daily Trojan

"Students Talk Back: A Weekly Politics and Public Policy Forum" is a series presented in partnership with the USC Dornsife College's Jesse M. Unruh Institute of Politics and the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy's Schwarzenegger Institute.

USC Schwarzenegger Institute for State and Global Policy

USCPrice
The School of Public Policy

For more information: email unruhins@usc.edu, visit www.usc.edu/unruh, or call (213) 740-8964.

USC Dornsife
Jesse M. Unruh
Institute of Politics